California Automobile Museum’s new exhibit
Features cars of movies and television

SACRAMENTO, Calif. The California Automobile Museum

The new specialty exhibit “REEL CARS: the importance of cars in film making” opened on Feb. 14, 2020 and runs through July 6, 2020. Automobiles have been a part of motion pictures since the two technologies developed simultaneously in the early 1900s. This exhibit traces their relationship through the last 120 years. The on screen cars are the specific focus of this display. The cars are not replicas or celebrity-owned - all cars that were featured were by studios to make a movie or TV show.

The selection of cars also shows the process of automobile filming. Different rigs and a crashed car shed a light on the behind-the-scenes of cars in motion pictures. There are multiple ways to engage and interact with the exhibit displays, including a car and projection in which visitors can create their own driving scene.
